SCHOOLS LEVELED, CHILDREN KILLED

ILLINOIS HIT BY TORNADO SCORES LOSE LIVES IN STORM

Dozen Towns Struck By Twister—Toil of Each Is One To Eight Persons Killed—Villages Smashed By Devastating Wind—Teacher and Her Pupils Victims At Centerville—Wire Communications Cut—Losses Estimated At Three Million—Floods Threaten Three Million Acres.

Tearing a straight line thru six central Illinois counties, a series of tornadoes and line squalls Tuesday afternoon brought death to upwards of two score persons, injury to 200 others and left scores in a dozen communities homeless in Illinois.

Uncertainty colored all reports and gave rise to belief that further reports may send the fatality and injury figures higher or eliminate some names from the list of dead.

Definite reports are available only from those who are penetrating the territory over tree-strewn and water-soaked roads by horse and wagon.

Among the communities reporting fatalities were:

Carrollton, eight killed and 12 injured; Buffalo Hart, eight killed; Cornland, three killed; Clinton, 13 injured; Chestnut, two killed; Hardin, one killed; Centerville, four killed and eight injured; Mt. Pulaski, one killed and six injured; Wrights, five killed and two injured; Laomi, six killed; Woodville, two killed, and Kafer, one killed.

The freak storm started at the Mississippi river and was described by weather bureau officials as a series of line squalls as distinguished from a tornado.

School children were among the chief sufferers in Tuesday's storm. Three were reported to have been killed or injured when the storm wrecked rural schools elsewhere, according to fragmentary reports.

The storm, for the most part, struck small towns of 200 or 300 populations, then descended again on villages and hamlets further away.

Besides the loss of life, heavy property damage was done but the damage did not approach the figure of the tornado of two years ago, when upwards of 800 persons were killed in the southern part of the state.

Buildings were wrecked, trees uprooted and wire communications with the stricken districts virtually were cut off for several hours.

Many of the injured were taken to Jacksonville and other nearby towns. Early reports indicated that the damage would be more than $1,000,000.

One of the school buildings hit was at Centerville, three miles southwest of Carrollton, where Miss Annie Keller, the teacher, was killed. Miss Keller saved the lives of her 24 pupils. See the approaching storm, she bade them take shelter beneath their seats. The building crumpled upon them and only a few bruised. Two school children were killed at Chestnut, in Logan county, when a school building was wrecked.

At Quincy damage conservatively estimated at $150,000 to property, small fruits and nurseries resulted from a hailstorm which swept over the city and suburbs.

The levee on the White river at Clarendon has gone out, according to dispatches received at Little Rock, Arkansas, by the Missouri Pacific railroad company. Wires are all out into Clarendon and attempts to verify the report failed. The break would render close to 2000 persons homeless and flood an immense amount of land at the junction of the Cache and White rivers.

Valiant, but now defenseless communities in the Mississippi Valley north of Memphis, Tennessee, and in Arkansas to the west, Tuesday saw another of their bulwarks crumble and many additional square miles of bottom lands laid open to the flood.

The St. John's Bayou levee, eight miles north of New Madrid, Missouri followed the Medley levee in succumbing to the eddies of the current and Tuesday night the yellow waters swept onward down an area 100 miles long and many miles wide to Helena, Arkansas, adding hundreds of persons to the long list of homeless.

Southeast Missouri, already prostrate before the flood faced additional loss, as did unhappy Arkansas, whose three major streams, the Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers already have broken out of bounds in a number of places, putting much of its farm land under water.

More than 75 towns and villages in the two states were in the threatened section, while it was estimated that 3,000,000 acres of land were in danger.

MRS ARTHUR O'CONNOR DEAD.

Mrs. Lizzie O'Connor of South Pickaway street, received the sad news Tuesday of the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ella O'Connor, wife of Arthur O'Connor who died at San Diego, California, March 27.

The funeral services were held March 30. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Richard Arthur and Francis Robert O'Connor. Mrs. O'Connor was Miss Ella Daley before her marriage.

Lancaster — If the United States disarmed without waiting for other nations to do so, it would be the greatest impetus for a warless world mankind has ever known, Dr. Chas. S. I don't see how the United States can contribute anything to the peace of the world as long as we continue to remain in circles of competitive armament."

PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK GOES MOIST

Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Only Dry Strongholds Left.

Royal assent to the bill permitting sale of intoxicants in New Brunswick is all that remains to make Canada a "wet" country in 1928, with the exception of the province of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Premier Baxter's bill, designed to permit sale of intoxicants, was passed by the provincial legislature Tuesday. By its terms sale of liquor would be under control of the government. It is fashioned after the bill soon to be into effect in Ontario with the difference that persons buying illicit liquor would receive the same punishment as those convicted of selling it.

The remaining step to put the bill on the statutes is assent of the crown, which is by signature of the dominion lieutenant governor. He is expected to sign it.

Despite opposition to the bill on the part of government supporters, who are confirmed prohibitionists, Premier Baxter in introducing the bill said it expressed the will of the majority supporting the government.

Fish Killed by Cold

We call fish cold-blooded, but they dislike extreme cold as much as a boy dislikes an icy bath. They actually die of cold; millions of tile-fish across the Atlantic were killed by chilly currents, and fish brought up by Scott's men in the Antarctic, from water with a temperature of 30 degrees, froze to death as they reached the air, where the temperature was 70 degrees colder.

The modern child's idea is; Spare the criticism and spoil the parent.

Vikings in History

Vikings of the early Middle ages took their name from the fact that they were dwellers along the viks or creeks of Scandinavia. They were also known as Norsemen and sea-rovers. They ravaged the coasts of England and northern France in the Ninth and Tenth centuries. Norsemen took possession of the coast country of France and became known as Normans.

SCANDINAVIAN MUSIC THEME MONDAY CLUB

Resume by Mrs. G. G. Leist and Numbers Rendered by Other Members.

"Scandinavian Music" was the subject of the program for the meeting of the Monday club this week, and Mrs. G. G. Leist gave a resume of the subject, and several musical selections were rendered illustrating the nature of the music.

The earliest Scandinavian songs of which anything is known are those which deal with the old Norse mythology and by a gradual process of development, the bards substituted for the mythical heroes of their songs the mighty men of their times.

Later came the chorus work and here lies the true foundation of Scandinavian Folk-Music, and in this type of song we find pictured the love of the land, the rugged shores, the sea breeze and the sound of waterfalls. As is usual in the northern zones, the minor mode prevails, this being the outcome of the geographic and climatic conditions and to the fact that humanity is most inclined to make music when sad.

Grace notes are freely used, being used at the caprice of the player. Dancing is a most popular amusement among the peasants, and the kind of music depends upon the kind of dance, whether a festival, wedding or a funeral.

Gadeivas was the first Danish composer to win world renown, and Hartman is the best known vocal composer. August Erna is the only Danish composer who has achieved fame in the field of opera. Sibelius is a Finnish composer of high rank and is recognized as the head of the younger Danish school. In 1896, he wrote the opera, "The Maid in the Tower" and he is considered a most prolific composer.

Sweden is a land of song and a nation of singers, their folk songs being among the best in the world. Much of their music is founded on fairy tales and the older songs are built on the church modes.

Swedish music, bore especially song was made known to the world by Jenny Lind, "The Swedish Night engale," and Christine Nilsson. The leading composers of Sweden have been Hallens, Sjogren-Shakren and Stinhammer.

In Norway we find Ludwig Linderman, an outstanding composer, and his collection consists of over 500 folk tunes. Ole Bull the famed violinist did noble work in making Norwegian melodies known to the world.

Edward Griegg is the Norwegian whose compositions are such favorites all over the world. He has been called the Chopin of the north.

He was an able pianist and conductor, possessed of the rare secret of inspiring his orchestra with his own delicacy of feeling. He died in 1907. His successor seems to be Sinding.

At this point in the program Miss Anna Schleyer played three numbers of the folk songs, showing the chief charms of the Scandinavian music.

The next vocal solos were Grieg composers and consisted of the "Sunshine Song" sung by Mrs. Harry Heffner; "Cradle Song" by Miss Helen Marion; "Ich Liebe Dich" and two shorter numbers by Mrs. Frank Bennett. The chorus sang "Seasons" by Samuel Richard Gaines. Miss Clarke rendered two piano solos; "Romance" by Sibelius, and "March of the Dwarfs" by Grieg.

HARPEST At MEMORIAL HALL COLUMBUS, OHIO. THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 21

Circleville will swoop down on Columbus tomorrow (Thursday) night to hear one of the most unique and at the same time one of the most beautiful musical programs ever produced in the Ohio Capital.

The occasion will be the first presentation anywhere of the great Joseph Vito harp ensemble.

Local interest in the concert comes from two angles—first, our city has always held a keen interest for anything musical, and second a daughter of a former Circleville resident will make her musical debut on this evening Miss Virginia Doughty, whom the Cincinnati and Columbus papers have said so much about is the daughter of Clark C. Doughty and Mabel R. Boyer Doughty.

Many people have heard harp concerts where the whole program was rendered by a single harpist, but few have ever listened to a harp ensemble. Imagine a whole stage of beautiful golden harps, mastered by those who know every string, every tone, then you will get a faint idea of what this great event will look like sound like. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, who late in years took up the study of the harp once wrote; "There is a peculiarly spiritual quality about the harp. Its very shape and its glowing color stir the observer with poetic and reverent emotions. One feels there must be truth in the tradition which associates the harp with heavenly voices."

Joseph Vito, who heads the ensemble, is the solo harpist of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, and is recognized as one of the world's greatest harpists. Radio listeners have heard him many times as they have Joseph Engle, of Chicago, another of the company. There two harpists are the only male members of the company, all the others being young ladies gathered from different parts of the country.

Aside from the harps themselves, Memorial hall stage will take on the appearance of a beautiful and inspiring setting. Gorgeous draperies, palms and blooming flowers will prevail.

The party will arrive in Columbus by special Pullman car attached to the regular B. & O. train about noon Thursday and will be taken to the Deshler hotel where a suite of twenty rooms have been engaged for them in the new A. I. U. addition. From 2 to 4 o'clock a public reception will be held in the parlors of the hotel.

Miss Doughty who has been studying the harp at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music as a great-granddaughter of the late Rev. Richard Doughty of the Methodist church and a cousin of United States Senator Willis. Mrs. Willis and family as well as other prominent people of central Ohio will occupy boxes that will be built on the ground floor of the hall.

The prices of tickets have been made extremely low for an event of this kind, being only $1.10, $1.65 and $2.20 thruout the all; all seats are reserved.

Several hundred people from Circleville and Pickaway county are expected to attend.

Miss Doughty is a granddaughter of Mr. Charles Boyer, of this city.

SEVEN MEN

Held As Counterfeiters at Peoria, Ill.—"Phoney" Money Passed In Ohio, 'Tis Said.

Peoria, Ill., April 19.—Seven men, believed to be members of a band of counterfeiters who flooded the Middle West with "phoney" twenty-dollar bills, were held incommunicado here today.

The bills are said to be so perfect that even bank officials have been deceived. The gang is said to have traveled from coast to coast, leaving a trail of worthless bills.

Seven of the bills were passed in Galesburg, Bloomington, East Peoria, Mason City and Peoria last Thursday. Government officials said hundreds of the bills have been passed in Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin in the last two months.

Peoria police believe that the bills have been manufactured here and shipped to different parts of the country.

Three women and a man also were arrested in Galesburg in connection with activities of the alleged ring. They are being brought to Peoria.

Cumbersome Bank Notes

Treasury and bank notes were not always in their present convenient form. The first traces of banking are provided by clay tablets from ancient Babylon and Assyria. Four or five thousand years ago the Babylonians carried out transactions approximating to many practices of modern banking. Their "checks" and "notes" were made of clay, which was then hardened.

Looks like new; it isn't tho just had them cleaned at Barnhill's, very common remark. Call office 710.

CHERRY BLOSSOM

Festival Was Feature of Easter Service.

Washington, April 19. — A cherry blossom festival at the tip end of the beautiful driveway circling Potomac park which juts its way between the two branches of the Potomac, was a part of the capital's Easter program.

This event was of an international character and commemorated the gift of the Japanese cherry trees to the American government by Japan during the Taft administration. It was in honor of the ambassador from Japan and Mrs. Matsudaire and Mrs. William Howard Taft.

Many notables, including members of the diplomatic corps, and high government officials attended the pageant in the cast of which were many children from the embassies and legations of foreign nations.

The pageant entitled "Cherry Flowers," showed in allegorical form both the spirit of the gift of the trees to the United States by Japan and the story of its acceptance.

A few more people in town have caught the mumps since our last writing, and among others, Howard Evans is scared up a good deal, and is doing all he can to keep away from the public. He had them once, but only on one side and he says that's a good example of the way misfortunes have always doubled up on him.

An airplane passed over Folksburg yesterday and several of our citizens showed their natural curiosity by watching it as long as it was in sight. Others made an effort to act like it wasn't anything new to them, and tried hard not to look up.

Andy Dobbins found a piece in the barber shop paper the other day about how they've struck some big gold fields out west somewhere. He read it thru several times how they are digging up gold right on top of the ground and it stirred his imagination so that he went home and dug around all over his back yard, under the pretense that he was making flower beds.

The Woman's Discussion club met last week with the intention of making some kind of an experiment in mental concentration. But it seems like one of the rules was that everybody had to be silent for five minutes and not talk any, which it was found couldn't be done.

Sandy Atkins parked his old flivver in front of Amanda Bell's house for a while yesterday and Amanda was considerably put out about it on account of while it was there some of her acquaintances from Bromwell passed by and she's afraid that may be they thought it was her machine.

Somebody was talking to Tom Jackson the other day about how important it is for a man to keep figures on how much he spends. But Tom didn't agree. He said he makes $20 a week, which is all gone every Saturday night and he couldn't see any use of wasting paper to set down a lot of figures.

Emmett Tucker's wife finally prevailed on him last Friday to set aside a half day and clean their attic. She got him up there early with a lot of brooms and things and she felt tolerably good thinking what a change he'd make. But when she went up at dinner time to see how it looked why she found that he had settled down comfortably and spent the morning reading some old detective books he located.

In speaking of our epidemic of mumps, Uncle Bill Bobbitt has remarked that there is a big advantage in having such things early. He said he had all of his necessary ailments back so far that if they hurt him any, he's got no recollection of it now.

Some of our social leaders took dinner with the Jay Butler family last Sunday, among whom were Ed Thomas and his wife, Mrs. Thomas didn't know till later why Ed got so red all at once at the table and sort of lost interest in his surroundings. And it was because he took a bite of pie that was terribly hot, and it required his best efforts to keep from breaking any rules of etiquette.

Enoch Budd was talking in the barber shop yesterday about how many things he's gone into that he lost money on, and he made it sound like he must be pretty near a ruined man. But all of those present knew that he's hit it right enough times that he owns more property than any man in town.

Andrew Allen was vexed some last Tuesday when he tried to mail a letter at the postoffice and they would not take it on account of they thought the stamp had been used before. And it seems like the reason was that Andrew had used his thumb to press hard on the stamp and make it stick tight.

Mise Sadie Baxter bought a fine new dress last week, but she's not wearing it any yet because as soon as everybody sees it why it will be old then and she wants to keep it new as long as she can.

'Mixture of Races

The Welsh are a Celtic people. At the time of the coming of the Romans in 55 B. C. the natives of Wales represented a mixture of the primitive Iberians and the later invading Celts, all bearing the general name of Cymry. Afterward the Celtic inhabitants of Britain took refuge in Wales, where they were driven westward by the Anglo-Saxons. In time they merged with the natives.

Figures That Stagger

If a grain of wheat were placed on the first square of a chessboard, points out Sam Loyd, puzzle wizard, in an article in Liberty, two grains on the second, four on the third, eight on the fourth, and so on; always doubling for each square up to the sixty-fourth, and last square on the board, it would total 18,446,744,073,709,551,615 wheat kernels.

Look at Him Now

It takes ages to make a man, and then look what age makes of him.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

PROF. R. F. CAIN
AT CHAMBER
OF COMMERCE

Professor R. F. Cain gave a most interesting talk in "Our Boys" at the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening. The Problems of Training, Find out What they are Really Fitted for, Their Father as a Chum, Right of Self Discovery, The Training of Boys, Their Inalienable Right of Being Well Born and Finding Where He Fits, were some of the subjects touched on by the speaker. His talk showed that as an educator Professor Cain has made the boy a deep study, which is most valuable in public school work. Men like Professor Cain always leave a good influence on the rising generation.

Not a Matter of Age

"Don't you sometimes wish you were young again?" "No," answered Senator Sorghum. "I have been reading the papers. A man can be just as foolish at thirty as he can at sixty."—Washington Star.

Familiar Optical Illusion

Make a small hole in a card, and hold it four or five inches away from your face, toward the sky. Hold a pin-head against the lashes and gaze through the hole. Then you will see, to your surprise, that the pin is inverted. Still more interesting is the fact that if you made several holes you will see inverted image of the pin in each.

After the Ball

A dashing phase of every artists' ball is the home going, in the cold gray dawn of the morning after. Invariably it rains, and there is not a taxi in sight. Makeup and grease paint are running, parts of rented costumes are missing, wigs are lost, lovers are separated and husbands and wives are not speaking. Oh, what bliss, to mingle in gay, mad Bohemia!—Vanity Fair.

AMUSEMENTS

If ever a picture deserved the adjective stupendous—Frank Lloyd's "The Eagle of the Sea" which opened at the Met theater last night, is it! After sitting thru eight reels of romance, thrills, smiles and tears, this writer is convinced that the film is worth every cent of the great fortune Paramount must have poured into its making.

Altho of a spectacular nature, "The Eagle of the Sea" cannot be classified as such. Romantic, it is more than a romance. Altho historical, thrilling and adventurous, it cannot be tabulated as any of these. It is all of the above woven together with a deftness of which only Frank Lloyd is capable.

The story, that of the most adventurous body of men ever gathered—weather-beaten buccannery of the Spanish Main—is pictured so accurately that as one views it he wonders whether the spirits of those old sea-dogs didn't come to life while the picture was being made.

The plot's action hinges on Jean Lafitte, terror of the Mexican Gulf, who because he aided General Jackson in the battle of New Orleans, was pardoned for his depredations as a pirate. Learning of a scheme to involve England and the United States in war, he resumes his searoving to capture the plotters. A terrific battle takes place in which Jean violates his parole and defeats his enemies.

Florence Vidor and Ricardo Cortez, the two featured players, deserve particular praise. As the toast of New Orleans, Miss Vidor has the best role of her career. Cortez, the dashing devil-may-care pirate, sweeps you off your feet by his audacity.

One of the best films in many months, "The Eagle of the Sea" is one picture you should not miss.

Ancients Overlooked Celery

Epicsures of olden times, while skillful in finding nice things for the table, overlooked celery, although it grew as a wild product in many countries and was plentiful, and the plant was brought into the market as a luxury, still is considered one and the wild crop has not been used save in a small way.

Do you select shoes which will be smart and becoming and entirely suited to your needs?—or simply because they happen to be the newest fad?

In a season when so many styles are brought forth, it is very wise to choose your shoes for definite purposes, or to wear with certain costumes. For, after all, being "well dressed" depends upon your own attractiveness. And clothes, or shoes chosen in that way, will always give greater pleasure.

EXERCISE WAS A' WET

Thomas Strawser and John Baer, the oldest members of the local Fire Department, had a funny experience Monday morning when the department was trying out the big booster motor; these members were manning the nozzle which on account of the increased pressure of the motor, got away from them, both were knocked down and thoroughly drenched before the motor could be shut off. While it was amusing to those who witnessed the accident it might really have been a very serious affair if the nozzle had struck either member of the department while the nozzle was zigzagging like an angry rattlesnake.

For Elgin is conceded to be the world's standard for watch integrity.

What a Rexall One Cent Sale Is

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price, then another item of the same kind for one cent. As an illustration: The standard price of Klenzo Dental Creme is 50c, you buy a tube at this price and by paying 1 cent more, or 51 cents, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as is sold every day at the regular price.

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1 cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, knowing the goods will please you.

Tower Fortification

A martello tower is a circular fort
of masonry, generally erected on the seacoast, which has guns mounted on
the top in such a way as to be able to fire in any direction. The word is probably derived from the Italian
"martello," hammer, and from "mor-
tella," taken from Cape Mortella in Corsica, where such a tower resisted
the English fleet in 1794.

ALL DAY TEMPERANCE MEET AT HOME OF MRS. TARBILL

Reports of Directors of Different Departments
Were Submitted and Interesting Papers Were Read—Recitations By John Edwin Peck and
Mildred Creighton—Several Visitors From This City.

The Atlanta Woman's Christian
Temperance Union held an all day institute at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. William Tarbill, near Atlanta Wednesday, April 13.

The morning session opened at 10:45 o'clock. The president, Mrs.
Blanche Hoskins, presided and read
the scripture lesson and led the devotions, which was followed by singing "America." A report of the directors of several departments of
work were called for, and responded
to with good reports. Mrs. Hattie Ater read a very interesting paper
from Mrs. Margaret C. Mumms, a national W. C. T. U. officer. The following is an extract: The W. C.
T. U., has proved itself a worthy antagonist of the liquor traffic either
legal or illegal. It is safeguarding the homes of all the people and is
patriotic and unselfish in its program. Why is the national W. C. T.
U., in a campaign for a million members? The one big outstanding answer that at present overshadows all
others is this, to mobilize a million
women to work with it for the observance, enforcement and retention
of the national prohibition act, and
the 18th amendment.

A very inspiring paper was read
from Mrs. Frances P. Parks, a national W. C. T. U. officer by Mrs.
May Ater. A sketch follows: It is a day when every patriotic woman
should join the W. C. T. U. and help
in making the 18th amendment more effective. One member today is worth two tomorrow. Since 1874, the White Ribbon army has steadily advanced from ocean to ocean. There is no corner of America where its
courageous voice has not been heard.
Is this army less powerful today
than fifty years ago? Is it going to stand by and let the forces of evil
wrest away the victory? A thousand times "no." Our fifty year struggle for the 18th amendment is
the most striking example of our belief that no good thing is impossible
of attainment; we worked, we prayed, we intend to fight and we are bound to win.

Mrs. Mary H. Dunlap voiced the
noon-tide prayer, which was followed
by a splendid dinner from the well
filled baskets of the members of Atlanta W. C. T. U. which was greatly enjoyed by all, as well as the delicious social time which prevailed during this highly interesting period.

The afternoon session opened at 2
o'clock by an inspiring song. Mrs.
Mary E. Gray read the scripture lesson and led the devotions. Mrs. Gray
also read a very interesting letter
from the state director of Sabbath
observance showing the need of work
in this important department.

Mrs. Edith Clary, the secretary,
called the roll of members which was
responded to by each one giving out
some act from a reliable authority
as to the good done by our prohibition laws, following are a few of the
responses: Professor Irving Fisher,
of Yale university well known economist declares the dry law has brought an annual saving to the American people of more than six
billion dollars. Professor Fisher also says the estimated annual income

in 1919 the last wet year has been increased ten per cent due to prohibition. Roger Babson, another world
renowned economist says there is probably no one factor which would
more quickly bring about a business panic and a period of unemployment as a nullification by legislation of prohibition and a return to
the saloon with its accompanying
poverty and disease.

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of national W. C. T. U. says prohibition
has to its credit the abolition of the
open saloon, better national health,
decreased death rate, more saving
bank deposits, transformed slums
and an increase in home owning.
Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation army, says: There has always been a marked affinity between
drink and degradation of womanhood. In the old days the house of shame and the saloon were found under one roof. The wine room seduction once so frequent is now a thing of the past. In 1925 the people of dry United States paid more
than eight billion dollars worth of
life insurance, an increase of a billion dollars over the amount bought
in 1924, smashing all insurance
records.

Master John Edwin Peck gave a
pleasing recitation entitled "What Shall I Drink?" Little Miss Mildred
Creighton also gave a very pleasing
recitation. Mrs. Peck read a forceful paper entitled; "Sabbath Observance a Fundamental Principle,"
from which is quoted, recognition of the fourth commandment as a law of
the all wise and beneficent Creator
of the Universe and observance of
the Sabbath as a day of rest and
worship are as fundamental to civilization as is the acceptance and observance of any other of the ten commandments. No nation can disobey any of the ten rules of life
without lowering the morale of its people and distinctly reducing their well being as a whole. There can be no doubt that the nation which most closely observes the laws of God and
lives most nearly in accord with His
will must ultimately realize most of
happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. Price, county president, gave
a very interesting and forceful talk
pertaining to the work of the county
W. C. T. U., and also had on view a large display of posters which were
very interesting and educational.

Miss Mary Harpster, county director of child welfare department
gave a highly interesting talk on
her departments which was much appreciated. Mrs. Jay Wall, county
director parliamentary law, gave a
very instructive talk on that department. During the afternoon program
two good musical numbers were contributed on the victrola. When the program closed each one felt a very pleasant and profitable day had been
spent which would leave many pleasant memories in the minds of all present.

Among the visitors in attendance
were Miss Mary Harpster, of Kingston; Mrs. Lucy B. Price, Mrs. Jay
Wall, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle and
Mrs. S. W. Dunlap, of Circleville.

MONROE CHAMPION

SEWING CLUB.

On Thursday, April 14, 1927, Mrs.
C. D. Hosler came to the Monroe school building for the purpose of organizing the sewing club again; 20
girls were enrolled and there are fine
prospect of many more.

The officers were elected as follows: President, Dorothy A. Porter;
vice president, Florence Grabill; secretary, Garnet Willis; assistant secretary, Marvene Lane; reporters,
Geneva Bandy and Freda McCafferty
cheer leader, Barbara Davis.

The girls are planning on many
good times and also to work hard
making it the best year of the club
work ever completed.

There will be a regular meeting on May 17. All members are urged to be present so plans for the year's
work can be made.

Geneva Bandy and
Freda McCafferty, Reporters.

MINSTREL SHOW AT HIGH SCHOOL EARL IN MAY.

A minstrel show with scenery,
costumes, orchestral accompaniment
"n' everything" consisting of thirty
students is to be presented at the Circleville high school auditorium
the nights of May 2 and 3.

The company is under the excellent directorship of George Hitler whose performance in previous minstrel shows here is well known. Several other persons of ability have kindly
consented to drill them in the tricks
of the game.

The program will consist of popular songs, jokes and musical and
dancing specialties which will be followed by a play, "Dollars and No Sense."

The entire company is drilling earnestly and there is an unusual wealth
of material which bids fair to make
up one of the home talent minstrels
ever presented to a Circleville audience.

A woman likes nothing better than
to boss a burly man in the performance of some trifling task, such as the readjustment of a chandelier.

Dozen Towns Struck By Twister—Toil of Each Is One To Eight Persons Killed—Villages Smashed By Devastating Wind—Teacher and Her Pupils Victims At Centerville—Wire Communications Cut—Losses Estimated At Three Million—Floods Threaten Three Million Acres.

Tearing a straight line thru six central Illinois counties, a series of tornadoes and line squalls Tuesday afternoon brought death to upwards of two score persons, injury to 200 others and left scores in a dozen communities homeless in Illinois.

Uncertainty colored all reports and gave rise to belief that further reports may send the fatality and injury figures higher or eliminate some names from the list of dead.

Definite reports are available only from those who are penetrating the territory over tree-strewn and water-soaked roads by horse and wagon.

Among the communities reporting fatalities were:

Carrollton, eight killed and 12 injured; Buffalo Hart, eight killed; Cornland, three killed; Clinton, 13 injured; Chestnut, two killed; Hardin, one killed; Centerville, four killed and eight injured; Mt. Pulaski, one killed and six injured; Wrights, five killed and two injured; Laomi, six killed; Woodville, two killed, and Kafer, one killed.

The freak storm started at the Mississippi river and was described by weather bureau officials as a series of line squalls as distinguished from a tornado.

School children were among the chief sufferers in Tuesday's storm. Three were reported to have been killed or injured when the storm wrecked rural schools elsewhere, according to fragmentary reports.

The storm, for the most part, struck small towns of 200 or 300 populations, then descended again on villages and hamlets further away.

Besides the loss of life, heavy property damage was done but the damage did not approach the figure of the tornado of two years ago, when upwards of 800 persons were killed in the southern part of the state.

Buildings were wrecked, trees uprooted and wire communications with the stricken districts virtually were cut off for several hours.

Many of the injured were taken to Jacksonville and other nearby towns. Early reports indicated that the damage would be more than $1,000,000.

One of the school buildings hit was at Centerville, three miles southwest of Carrollton, where Miss Annie Keller, the teacher, was killed. Miss Keller saved the lives of her 24 pupils. See the approaching storm, she bade them take shelter beneath their seats. The building crumpled upon them and only a few bruised. Two school children were killed at Chestnut, in Logan county, when a school building was wrecked.

At Quincy damage conservatively estimated at $150,000 to property, small fruits and nurseries resulted from a hailstorm which swept over the city and suburbs.

The levee on the White river at Clarendon has gone out, according to dispatches received at Little Rock, Arkansas, by the Missouri Pacific railroad company. Wires are all out into Clarendon and attempts to verify the report failed. The break would render close to 2000 persons homeless and flood an immense amount of land at the junction of the Cache and White rivers.

Valiant, but now defenseless communities in the Mississippi Valley north of Memphis, Tennessee, and in Arkansas to the west, Tuesday saw another of their bulwarks crumble and many additional square miles of bottom lands laid open to the flood.

The St. John's Bayou levee, eight miles north of New Madrid, Missouri followed the Medley levee in succumbing to the eddies of the current and Tuesday night the yellow waters swept onward down an area 100 miles long and many miles wide to Helena, Arkansas, adding hundreds of persons to the long list of homeless.

Southeast Missouri, already prostrate before the flood faced additional loss, as did unhappy Arkansas, whose three major streams, the Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers already have broken out of bounds in a number of places, putting much of its farm land under water.

More than 75 towns and villages in the two states were in the threatened section, while it was estimated that 3,000,000 acres of land were in danger.

I don't see how the United States can contribute anything to the peace of the world as long as we continue to remain in circles of competitive armament."

Royal assent to the bill permitting sale of intoxicants in New Brunswick is all that remains to make Canada a "wet" country in 1928, with the exception of the province of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Premier Baxter's bill, designed to permit sale of intoxicants, was passed by the provincial legislature Tuesday. By its terms sale of liquor would be under control of the government. It is fashioned after the bill soon to be into effect in Ontario with the difference that persons buying illicit liquor would receive the same punishment as those convicted of selling it.

The remaining step to put the bill on the statutes is assent of the crown, which is by signature of the dominion lieutenant governor. He is expected to sign it.

Despite opposition to the bill on the part of government supporters, who are confirmed prohibitionists, Premier Baxter in introducing the bill said it expressed the will of the majority supporting the government.

Fish Killed by Cold

We call fish cold-blooded, but they dislike extreme cold as much as a boy dislikes an icy bath. They actually die of cold; millions of tile-fish across the Atlantic were killed by chilly currents, and fish brought up by Scott's men in the Antarctic, from water with a temperature of 80 degrees, froze to death as they reached the air, where the temperature was 70 degrees colder.

The modern child's idea is; Spare the criticism and spoil the parent.

Vikings in History

Vikings of the early Middle ages took their name from the fact that they were dwellers along the viks or creeks of Scandinavia. They were also known as Norsemen and sea-rovers. They ravaged the coasts of England and northern France in the Ninth and Tenth centuries. Norsemen took possession of the coast country of France and became known as Normans.

Resume by Mrs. G. G. Leist and Numbers Rendered by Other Members.

"Scandinavian Music" was the subject of the program for the meeting of the Monday club this week, and Mrs. G. G. Leist gave a resume of the subject, and several musical selections were rendered illustrating the nature of the music.

The earliest Scandinavian songs of which anything is known are those which deal with the old Norse mythology and by a gradual process of development, the bards substituted for the mythical heroes of their songs the mighty men of their times.

Later came the chorus work and here lies the true foundation of Scandinavian Folk-Music, and in this type of song we find pictured the love of the land, the rugged shores, the sea breeze and the sound of waterfalls. As is usual in the northern zones, the minor mode prevails, this being the outcome of the geographic and climatic conditions and to the fact that humanity is most inclined to make music when sad.

Grace notes are freely used, being used at the caprice of the player. Dancing is a most popular amusement among the peasants, and the kind of music depends upon the kind of dance, whether a festival, wedding or a funeral.

Gadeivas was the first Danish composer to win world renown, and Hartman is the best known vocal composer. August Erna is the only Danish composer who has achieved fame in the field of opera. Sibelius is a Finnish composer of high rank and is recognized as the head of the younger Danish school. In 1896, he wrote the opera, "The Maid in the Tower" and he is considered a most prolific composer.

Sweden is a land of song and a nation of singers, their folk songs being among the best in the world. Much of their music is founded on fairy tales and the older songs are built on the church modes.

Swedish music, bore especially song was made known to the world by Jenny Lind, "The Swedish Nightingale," and Christine Nilsson. The leading composers of Sweden have been Hallens, Sjogren-Shakhren and Stinhammer.

In Norway we find Ludwig Linderman, an outstanding composer, and his collection consists of over 500 folk tunes. Ole Bull the famed violinist did noble work in making Norwegian melodies known to the world.

Edward Grieg is the Norwegian whose compositions are such favorites all over the world. He has been called the Chopin of the north.

He was an able pianist and conductor, possessed of the rare secret of inspiring his orchestra with his own delicacy of feeling. He died in 1907. His successor seems to be Sinding.

At this point in the program Miss Anna Schleyer played three numbers of the folk songs, showing the chief charms of the Scandinavian music.

The next vocal solos were Grieg compositions and consisted of the "Sunshine Song" sung by Mrs. Harry Heffner; "Cradle Song" by Miss Helen Marion; "Ich Liebe Dich" and two shorter numbers by Mrs. Frank Bennett. The chorus sang "Seasons" by Samuel Richard Gaines.

Miss Clarke rendered two piano solos; "Romance" by Sibelius, and "March of the Dwarfs" by Grieg.

HARPEST

At MEMORIAL HALL

COLUMBUS, OHIO.

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 21

Circleville will swoop down on Columbus tomorrow (Thursday) night to hear one of the most unique and at the same time one of the most beautiful musical programs ever produced in the Ohio Capital.

The occasion will be the first presentation anywhere of the great Joseph Vito harp ensemble.

Local interest in the concert comes from two angles—first, our city has always held a keen interest for anything musical, and second a daughter of a former Circleville resident will make her musical debut on this evening Miss Virginia Doughty, whom the Cincinnati and Columbus papers have said so much about is the daughter of Clark C. Doughty and Mabel R. Boyer Doughty.

Many people have heard harp concerts where the whole program was rendered by a single harpist, but few have ever listened to a harp ensemble. Imagine a whole stage of beautiful golden harps, mastered by those who know every string, every tone, then you will get a faint idea of what this great event will look like sound like. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, who late in years took up the study of the harp once wrote; "There is a peculiarly spiritual quality about the harp. Its very shape and its glowing color stir the observer with poetic and reverential emotions. One feels there must be truth in the tradition which associates the harp with heavenly voices."

Joseph Vito, who heads the ensemble, is the solo harpist of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, and is recognized as one of the world's greatest harpists. Radio listeners

have heard him many times as they have Joseph Engle, of Chicago, another of the company. There two harpists are the only male members of the company, all the others being young ladies gathered from different parts of the country.

Aside from the harps themselves, Memorial hall stage will take on the appearance of a beautiful and inspiring setting. Gorgeous draperies, palms and blooming flowers will prevail.

The party will arrive in Columbus by special Pullman car attached to the regular B. & O. train about noon Thursday and will be taken to the Deshler hotel where a suite of twenty rooms have been engaged for them in the new A. I. U. addition. From 2 to 4 o'clock a public reception will be held in the parlors of the hotel.

Miss Doughty who has been studying the harp at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music as a great-granddaughter of the late Rev. Richard Doughty of the Methodist church and a cousin of United States Senator Willis. Mrs. Willis and family as well as other prominent people of central Ohio will occupy boxes that will be built on the ground floor of the hall.

The prices of tickets have been made extremely low for an event of this kind, being only $1.10, $1.65 and $2.20 throughout the all; all seats are reserved.

Several hundred people from Circleville and Pickaway county are expected to attend.

Miss Doughty is a granddaughter of Mr. Charles Boyer, of this city.

Held As Counterfeiters at Peoria, Ill.—"Phoney" Money Passed In Ohio, 'Tis Said.

Peoria, Ill., April 19.—Seven men, believed to be members of a band of counterfeiters who flooded the Middle West with "phoney" twenty-dollar bills, were held incommunicado here today.

The bills are said to be so perfect that even bank officials have been deceived. The gang is said to have traveled from coast to coast, leaving a trail of worthless bills.

Seven of the bills were passed in Galesburg, Bloomington, East Peoria, Mason City and Peoria last Thursday. Government officials said hundreds of the bills have been passed in Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin in the last two months.

Peoria police believe that the bills have been manufactured here and shipped to different parts of the country.

Three women and a man also were arrested in Galesburg in connection with activities of the alleged ring. They are being brought to Peoria.

Cumbersome Bank Notes

Treasury and bank notes were not always in their present convenient form. The first traces of banking are provided by clay tablets from ancient Babylonia and Assyria. Four or five thousand years ago the Babylonians carried out transactions approximating to many practices of modern banking. Their "checks" and "notes" were made of clay, which was then hardened.

Looks like new; it isn't tho just had them cleaned at Barnhill's, very common remark. Call office 710.

CHERRY BLOSSOM

Festival Was Feature of Easter Service.

Washington, April 19. — A cherry blossom festival at the tip end of the beautiful driveway circling Potomac park which juts its way between the two branches of the Patomac, was a part of the capital's Easter program.

This event was of an international character and commemorated the gift of the Japanese cherry trees to the American government by Japan during the Taft administration. It was in honor of the ambassador from Japan and Mrs. Matsudaire and Mrs. William Howard Taft.

Many notables, including members of the diplomatic corps, and high government officials attended the pageant in the east of which were many children from the embassies and legations of foreign nations.

The pageant entitled "Cherry Flowers," showed in allegorical form both the spirit of the gift of the trees to the United States by Japan and the story of its acceptance.

Joseph W. Adkins,
14julyd&wtf. Probate Court.FOLKSBURG ITEMS

A few more people in town have caught the mumps since our last writing, and among others, Howard Evans is scared up a good deal, and is doing all he can to keep away from the public. He had them once, but only on one side and he says that's a good example of the way misfortunes have always doubled up on him.

An airplane passed over Folksburg yesterday and several of our citizens showed their natural curiosity by watching it as long as it was in sight. Others made an effort to act like it wasn't anything new to them, and tried hard not to look up.

Andy Dobbins found a piece in the barber shop paper the other day about how they've struck some big gold fields out west somewhere. He read it thru several times how they are digging up gold right on top of the ground and it stirred his imagination so that he went home and dug around all over his back yard, under the pretense that he was making flower beds.

The Woman's Discussion club met last week with the intention of making some kind of an experiment in mental concentration. But it seems like one of the rules was that everybody had to be silent for five minutes and not talk any, which it was found couldn't be done.

Sandy Atkins parked his old flivver in front of Amanda Bell's house for a while yesterday and Amanda was considerably put out about it on account of while it was there some of her acquaintances from Bromwell passed by and she's afraid that may be they thought it was her machine.

Somebody was talking to Tom Jackson the other day about how important it is for a man to keep figures on how much he spends. But Tom didn't agree. He said he makes $20 a week, which is all gone every Saturday night and he couldn't see any use of wasting paper to set down a lot of figures.

Emmett Tucker's wife finally prevailed on him last Friday to set aside a half day and clean their attic. She got him up there early with a lot of brooms and things and she felt tolerably good thinking what a change he'd make. But when she went up at dinner time to see how it looked why she found that he had settled down comfortably and spent the morning reading some old detective books he located.

In speaking of our epidemic of mumps, Uncle Bill Bobbitt has remarked that there is a big advantage in having such things early. He said he had all of his necessary ailments back so far that if they hurt him any, he's got no recollection of it now.

Some of our social leaders took dinner with the Jay Butler family last Sunday, among whom were Ed Thomas and his wife. Mrs. Thomas didn't know till later why Ed got so red all at once at the table and sort of lost interest in his surroundings. And it was because he took a bite of pie that was terribly hot, and it required his best efforts to keep from breaking any rules of etiquette.

Enoch Budd was talking in the barber shop yesterday about how many things he's gone into that he lost money on, and he made it sound like he must be pretty near a ruined man. But all of those present knew that he's hit it right enough times that he owns more property than any man in town.

Andrew Allen was vexed some last Tuesday when he tried to mail a letter at the postoffice and they would not take it on account of they thought the stamp had been used before. And it seems like the reason was that Andrew had used his thumb to press hard on the stamp and make it stick tight.

Mise Sadie Baxter bought a fine new dress last week, but she's not wearing it any yet because as soon as everybody sees it why it will be old them and she wants to keep it new as long as she can.

Mixture of Races

The Welsh are a Celtic people. At the time of the coming of the Romans in 55 B. C. the natives of Wales represented a mixture of the primitive Iberians and the later invading Celts, all bearing the general name of Cymry. Afterward the Celtic inhabitants of Britain took refuge in Wales, where they were driven westward by the Anglo-Saxons. In time they merged with the natives.

Figures That Stagger

If a grain of wheat were placed on the first square of a chessboard, points out Sam Loyd, puzzle wizard, in an article in Liberty, two grains on the second, four on the third, eight on the fourth, and so on; always doubling for each square up to the sixty-fourth and last square on the board, it would total 18,446,744,073,709,551,615 wheat kernels.

Look at Him Now

It takes ages to make a man, and then look what age makes of him.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

PROF. R. F. CAIN
AT CHAMBER

Professor R. F. Cain gave a most interesting talk in "Our Boys" at the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening. The Problems of Training, Find out What they are Really Fitted for, Their Father as a Chum, Right of Self Discovery, The Training of Boys, Their Inalienable Right of Being Well Born and Finding Where He Fits, were some of the subjects touched on by the speaker. His talk showed that as an educator Professor Cain has made the boy a deep study, which is most valuable in public school work. Men like Professor Cain always leave a good influence on the rising generation.

Not a Matter of Age

"Don't you sometimes wish you were young again?" "No," answered Senator Sorghum. "I have been reading the papers. A man can be just as foolish at thirty as he can at sixty."—Washington Star.

Familiar Optical Illusion

Make a small hole in a card, and hold it four or five inches away from your face, toward the sky. Hold a pin-head against the lashes and gaze through the hole. Then you will see, to your surprise, that the pin is inverted. Still more interesting is the fact that if you made several holes you will see inverted image of the pin in each.

After the Ball

A dashing phase of every artist's ball is the home going, in the cold gray dawn of the morning after. Invariably it rains, and there is not a taxi in sight. Makeup and grease paint are running, parts of rented costumes are missing, wigs are lost, lovers are separated and husbands and wives are not speaking. Oh, what bliss, to mingle in gay, mad Bohemia!—Vanity Fair.

AMUSEMENTS

If ever a picture deserved the adjective stupendous—Frank Lloyd's "The Eagle of the Sea" which opened at the Met theater last night, is it! After sitting thru eight reels of romance, thrills, smiles and tears, this writer is convinced that the film is worth every cent of the great fortune Paramount must have poured into its making.

Altho of a spectacular nature, "The Eagle of the Sea" cannot be classified as such. Romantic, it is more than a romance. Altho historical, thrilling and adventurous, it cannot be tabulated as any of these. It is all of the above woven together with a deftness of which only Frank Lloyd is capable.

The story, that of the most adventurous body of men ever gathered—weather-beaten buccannery of the Spanish Main—is pictured so accurately that as one views it he wonders whether the spirits of those old sea-dogs didn't come to life while the picture was being made.

The plot's action hinges on Jean Lafitte, terror of the Mexican Gulf, who because he aided General Jackson in the battle of New Orleans, was pardoned for his depredations as a pirate. Learning of a scheme to involve England and the United States in war, he resumes his searoving to capture the plotters. A terrific battle takes place in which Jean violates his parole and defeats his enemies.

Florence Vidor and Ricardo Cortez, the two featured players, deserve particular praise. As the toast of New Orleans, Miss Vidor has the best role of her career. Cortez, the dashing devil-may-care pirate, sweeps you off your feet by his audacity.

One of the best films in many months, "The Eagle of the Sea" is one picture you should not miss.

Do you select shoes which will be smart and becoming and entirely suited to your needs?—or simply because they happen to be the newest fad?

In a season when so many styles are brought forth, it is very wise to choose your shoes for definite purposes, or to wear with certain costumes. For, after all, being "well dressed" depends upon your own attractiveness. And clothes, or shoes chosen in that way, will always give greater pleasure.

EXERCISE WAS A' WET

Thomas Strawser and John Baer, the oldest members of the local Fire Department, had a funny experience Monday morning when the department was trying out the big booster motor; these members were manning the nozzle which on account of the increased pressure of the motor, got away from them, both were knocked down and thoroughly drenched before the motor could be shut off. While it was amusing to those who witnessed the accident it might really have been a very serious affair if the nozzle had struck either member of the department while the nozzle was zigzagging like an angry rattle-snake.

A watch may never lose a second yet be many years slow

The owner of such a watch may never miss a train or an appointment but it is the one false note in his modern makeup, probably the only thing he has that stamps him as a bit old-fashioned, a trifle behind the times. And yet a new and modish Elgin can be had at a moderate sum. Slipped into your pocket, or strapped on your wrist, it will win and hold your affection as no other watch possibly can. For Elgin is conceded to be the world's standard for watch integrity.

THE WOMAN'S WRIST WATCH, in a case of 14-karat solid white gold, is priced at $60. THE MAN'S WATCH may be had in a 14-karat gold-filled case of white or green tone. Sells for $40. We will show these and other Elgins to you gladly. No other watch is offered in so generous an assortment of styles nor at a price range so liberal.

What a Rexall One Cent Sale Is

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price, then another item of the same kind for one cent. As an illustration: The standard price of Klenzo Dental Creme is 50c, you buy a tube at this price and by paying 1 cent more, or 51 cents, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as is sold every day at the regular price.

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1 cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, knowing the goods will please you.

Tower Fortification

A martello tower is a circular fort
of masonry, generally erected on the
seacoast, which has guns mounted on
the top in such a way as to be able
to fire in any direction. The word is
probably derived from the Italian
"martello," hammer, and from "mor-
tella," taken from Cape Mortella in Corsica, where such a tower resisted
the English fleet in 1794.

ALL DAY TEMPERANCE MEET AT HOME OF MRS. TARBILL

Reports of Directors of Different Departments
Were Submitted and Interesting Papers Were Read—Recitations By John Edwin Peck and
Mildred Creighton—Several Visitors From This City.

The Atlanta Woman's Christian
Temperance Union held an all day institute at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. William Tarbill, near
Atlanta Wednesday, April 13.

The morning session opened at 10:45 o'clock. The president, Mrs.
Blanche Hoskins, presided and read
the scripture lesson and led the de-
votions, which was followed by singing "America." A report of the directors of several departments of
work were called for, and responded
to with good reports. Mrs. Hattie
Ater read a very interesting paper
from Mrs. Margaret C. Mumms, a
national W. C. T. U. officer. The following is an extract: The W. C. T.
U., has proved itself a worthy
antagonist of the liquor traffic either
legal or illegal. It is safeguarding
the homes of all the people and is
patriotic and unselfish in its program. Why is the national W. C. T.
U., in a campaign for a million members? The one big outstanding answer that at present overshadows all
others is this, to mobilize a million
women to work with it for the observance, enforcement and retention
of the national prohibition act, and
the 18th amendment.

A very inspiring paper was read
from Mrs. Frances P. Parks, a national W. C. T. U. officer by Mrs.
May Ater. A sketch follows: It is
a day when every patriotic woman
should join the W. C. T. U. and help
in making the 18th amendment more
effective. One member today is worth two tomorrow. Since 1874, the White Ribbon army has steadily advanced from ocean to ocean. There
is no corner of America where its
courageous voice has not been heard.
Is this army less powerful today
than fifty years ago? Is it going to stand by and let the forces of evil
wrest away the victory? A thousand times "no." Our fifty year
struggle for the 18th amendment is
the most striking example of our belief that no good thing is impossible
of attainment; we worked, we prayed, we intend to fight and we are bound to win.

Mrs. Mary H. Dunlap voiced the
noon-tide prayer, which was followed
by a splendid dinner from the well
filled baskets of the members of Atlanta W. C. T. U. which was greatly
enjoyed by all, as well as the delicious social time which prevailed during this highly interesting period.

The afternoon session opened at 2
o'clock by an inspiring song. Mrs.
Mary E. Gray read the scripture les-
son and led the devotions. Mrs. Gray
also read a very interesting letter
from the state director of Sabbath
observance showing the need of work
in this important department.

Mrs. Edith Clary, the secretary,
called the roll of members which was
responded to by each one giving out
some act from a reliable authority
as to the good done by our prohibition laws, following are a few of the
responses: Professor Irving Fisher,
of Yale university well known economist declares the dry law has
brought an annual saving to the American people of more than six
billion dollars. Professor Fisher also says the estimated annual income

in 1919 the last wet year has been
increased ten per cent due to prohibition. Roger Babson, another world
renowned economist says there is
probably no one factor which would
more quickly bring about a business panic and a period of unemployment as a nullification by legislation of prohibition and a return to
the saloon with its accompanying
poverty and disease.

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of
national W. C. T. U. says prohibition
has to its credit the abolition of the
open saloon, better national health,
decreased death rate, more saving
bank deposits, transformed slums
and an increase in home owning.
Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation army, says: There has always been a marked affinity between
drink and degradation of womanhood. In the old days the house of
shame and the saloon were found under one roof. The wine room seduction once so frequent is now a thing of the past. In 1925 the people of dry United States paid more
than eight billion dollars worth of
life insurance, an increase of a billion dollars over the amount bought
in 1924, smashing all insurance
records.

Master John Edwin Peck gave a
pleasing recitation entitled "What Shall I Drink?" Little Miss Mildred
Creighton also gave a very pleasing
recitation. Mrs. Peck read a force-
ful paper entitled: "Sabbath Observance a Fundamental Principle,"
from which is quoted, recognition of
the fourth commandment as a law of
the all wise and beneficent Creator
of the Universe and observance of
the Sabbath as a day of rest and
worship are as fundamental to civilization as is the acceptance and observance of any other of the ten commandments. No nation can
disobey any of the ten rules of life
without lowering the morale of its
people and distinctly reducing their
well being as a whole. There can be no doubt that the nation which most
closely observes the laws of God and
lives most nearly in accord with His
will must ultimately realize most of
happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. Price, county president, gave
a very interesting and forceful talk
pertaining to the work of the county
W. C. T. U., and also had on view a large display of posters which were
very interesting and educational.

Miss Mary Harpster, county di-
rector of child welfare department
gave a highly interesting talk on
her departments which was much
appreciated. Mrs. Jay Wall, county
director parliamentary law, gave a
very instructive talk on that department. During the afternoon program
two good musical numbers were contributed on the victrola. When the program closed each one felt a very
pleasant and profitable day had been
spent which would leave many pleasant memories in the minds of all
present.

Among the visitors in attendance
were Miss Mary Harpster, of Kings-
ton; Mrs. Lucy B. Price, Mrs. Jay
Wall, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle and
Mrs. S. W. Dunlap, of Circleville.

MONROE CHAMPION SEWING CLUB.

On Thursday, April 14, 1927, Mrs.
C. D. Hosler came to the Monroe
school building for the purpose of
organizing the sewing club again; 20
girls were enrolled and there are fine
prospect of many more.

The officers were elected as follows: President, Dorothy A. Porter;
vice president, Florence Grabill; secretary, Garnet Willis; assistant secretary, Marvene Lane; reporters,
Geneva Bandy and Freda McCafferty
cheer leader, Barbara Davis.

The girls are planning on many
good times and also to work hard
making it the best year of the club
work ever completed.

There will be a regular meeting on May 17. All members are urged to be present so plans for the year's
work can be made.

Geneva Bandy and
Freda McCafferty, Reporters.

MINSTREL SHOW AT HIGH SCHOOL EARL IN MAY.

A minstrel show with scenery,
costumes, orchestral accompaniment
"n' everything" consisting of thirty
students is to be presented at the Circleville high school auditorium
the nights of May 2 and 3.

The company is under the excellent direction of George Hitler whose
performance in previous minstrel
shows here is well known. Several
other persons of ability have kindly
consented to drill them in the tricks
of the game.

The program will consist of popular songs, jokes and musical and
dancing specialties which will be followed by a play, "Dollars and No Sense."

The entire company is drilling earnestly and there is an unusual wealth
of material which bids fair to make
up one of the home talent minstrels
ever presented to a Circleville audience.

A woman likes nothing better than
to boss a burly man in the performance of some trifling task, such as
the readjustment of a chandelier.

Making Life Interesting

A woman, whose quarrels in the house were complained of by her landlady in a police court, exclaimed: "If I didn't quarrel with my husband he would think I had gone soft."
